

SHE'S MRS. ELKINGTON

"Evening World" Reporter Finds "Mr. and Mrs. Newman."

With Her Children She Eloped with Actor Valentine Henry.

The English Runaways Now at 687 Second Avenue.

Valentine Henry, an English music hall singer, and Mrs. William Elkington, wife of William Elkington, of Shoreham, Sussex, England, are living together at 687 Second Avenue. With them are Elaine and Laurence Elkington, respectively six and eight years old, and two as pretty children as one would see in a day's journey.

This promiscuous paragraph explains the story published in the morning papers about the arrival in this country about Nov. 1 of an actor named Henry James and a woman whose name could not be learned, owing to the refusal of the English correspondent, who informed the Immigration Commissioners of an elopement of a wife, with her children, in highly respectable circles in Shoreham. Detective Groden, of the Barge Office, failed to locate the missing group.

Today the English correspondent, "Evening World" man in a single room on the top floor of the house in Second Avenue.

They came to this country on the Mauretania, which arrived here Nov. 1, coming in the steerage under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Newman, and the children as Ada and Charles Newman. They had been living in 12 Washington Street, remaining there only two days, and then moving to 687 Second Avenue, just above the Barge Office.

When the reporter called there to-day Henry was still in bed. The room was in dire confusion, and the remnants of a meal were on the table. He was amazed that they should have been discovered, and his companion was no less astonished.

Clippings of the stories published in the morning papers were handed to Henry, and he read them with a trembling lip. He was flushed and pale, and he broke out into exclamations of surprise. Then as he finished he calmly remarked:

"That is about true in every respect. What is there to be ashamed of? It was suggested that he tell the story of the mutual infatuation of himself and his companion. He said: 'He did so, and this is his story:'

"This is the lady referred to. She is Mrs. William Elkington, of Shoreham, the wife of a doctor's assistant. I met her two months ago. She was in the morning in the morning. She was introduced to her husband by a mutual friend, and she spent a week at the Elkingtons' home."

When we were then in love with each other and determined upon the step we have taken. We made our plans to come to America, and we could get plenty of engagements. My professional name is Valentine Henry, and I was in the morning in the morning. I was introduced to her husband by a mutual friend, and she spent a week at the Elkingtons' home."

Here the man who robbed his friend of his wife and children laughed boisterously, and was unable to continue the story. He evidently regarded it as a joke.

Mrs. Elkington, who stood at the foot of the bed, picked up the narrative, and she said, smilingly:

"I had nothing against my husband, only I met a man I loved better. He says he wants our children. Well, he may take them. He has been in New York for a few days. I wrote to a mutual friend of mine in England, and she wrote to my father in New York as Mr. and Mrs. Newman."

I married Mr. Elkington nine years ago. My maiden name was Mrs. Newman. My father is a retired gentleman, Tracy Turnerell, of Leamington, Warwickshire, England."

"Why, Elkington himself corded and strapped my trunk when I left home. He was thinking of taking me to Leamington, as I told him."

SAYS HE HAS NINE WIVES.

Mrs. Davis Has William R. Arrested for Assault.

He Denies that He Wedded More Than One Woman.

William R. Davis, thirty-two years old, of 207 West Sixty-sixth street, employed as cabinet repairer at the Columbia Storage House, Fifty-sixth street and Eighth avenue, was arraigned in Yorkville Police Court this morning on a complaint of assault preferred by a woman who says she is his ninth wife. She called herself Mrs. Davis. She lives with her mother, Ellen Bergen, at 562 West Fifty-fifth street.

Davis is a weak, puny little man, but he says he is not afraid of the women. Court Officer Beller has been looking for Davis for some time.

On Oct. 12 Mrs. Davis appeared in court with her eyes blackened and her face terribly bruised. She was in company with her mother, and secured a warrant for Davis's arrest. She then said, and reiterated her story to-day, that Davis, on Dec. 2, 1932, placed a ring on her finger and then declared that she was his wife. After that they lived together occasionally, notwithstanding the fact that she knew, she alleges, he was married.

Early in the month of October she said that Davis brought to her a woman named Mrs. Davis, who lives in Fifty-sixth street, near Tenth avenue, and wanted her to consent to allow Mrs. Davis to live with her. She said that Davis, on Dec. 2, 1932, placed a ring on her finger and then declared that she was his wife. After that they lived together occasionally, notwithstanding the fact that she knew, she alleges, he was married.

Davis says he was only legally married to one of the other wives. She said that Davis, on Dec. 2, 1932, placed a ring on her finger and then declared that she was his wife. After that they lived together occasionally, notwithstanding the fact that she knew, she alleges, he was married.

The alleged wife No. 9 gave the names of some of the other wives. She said that Davis, on Dec. 2, 1932, placed a ring on her finger and then declared that she was his wife. After that they lived together occasionally, notwithstanding the fact that she knew, she alleges, he was married.

With the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

Within the few weeks the number of assaults upon citizens by beggars has increased, and the police are now making a special effort to catch them. The police are now making a special effort to catch them.

BEGGAR-HIDDEN CITY, THIS.

Chanler Stranded.

Sporting News and Gossip.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that they have been kitting checks between the Mechanics and Traders' and the Hide and Leather Banks.

Mr. Joseph Ullman, law partner of Simon W. Schlessinger for N. J. Schlöss & Co., said today:

"The statement that the firm drew a check on the Mechanics and Traders' Bank is untrue, because they never had an account with that bank."

The truth of the matter is that they borrowed a check for $12,500 from the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, and gave Trautman & Co. in return a check on the Hide and Leather Bank.

Schlöss & Co. supposed that both checks would be paid, as they thought the bank was an equal partner. "There was no check-kitting. The same thing is done very often between firms in the city. They draw a check without drawing directly."

Mr. Ullman said that experts were working on the accounts of the alleged defaulter. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein.

Plumber Vaughan Dragged Out of a Hole Almost Suffocated. Patrick Vaughan, a plumber, thirty years old, was almost suffocated by illuminating gas in Flatbush at noon today. He was in a hole at the base of a street lamp, repairing the pipe.

SPORTING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that they have been kitting checks between the Mechanics and Traders' and the Hide and Leather Banks.

Mr. Joseph Ullman, law partner of Simon W. Schlessinger for N. J. Schlöss & Co., said today:

"The statement that the firm drew a check on the Mechanics and Traders' Bank is untrue, because they never had an account with that bank."

The truth of the matter is that they borrowed a check for $12,500 from the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, and gave Trautman & Co. in return a check on the Hide and Leather Bank.

Schlöss & Co. supposed that both checks would be paid, as they thought the bank was an equal partner. "There was no check-kitting. The same thing is done very often between firms in the city. They draw a check without drawing directly."

Mr. Ullman said that experts were working on the accounts of the alleged defaulter. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein.

Plumber Vaughan Dragged Out of a Hole Almost Suffocated. Patrick Vaughan, a plumber, thirty years old, was almost suffocated by illuminating gas in Flatbush at noon today. He was in a hole at the base of a street lamp, repairing the pipe.

SPORTING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that they have been kitting checks between the Mechanics and Traders' and the Hide and Leather Banks.

Mr. Joseph Ullman, law partner of Simon W. Schlessinger for N. J. Schlöss & Co., said today:

"The statement that the firm drew a check on the Mechanics and Traders' Bank is untrue, because they never had an account with that bank."

The truth of the matter is that they borrowed a check for $12,500 from the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, and gave Trautman & Co. in return a check on the Hide and Leather Bank.

Schlöss & Co. supposed that both checks would be paid, as they thought the bank was an equal partner. "There was no check-kitting. The same thing is done very often between firms in the city. They draw a check without drawing directly."

Mr. Ullman said that experts were working on the accounts of the alleged defaulter. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein.

Plumber Vaughan Dragged Out of a Hole Almost Suffocated. Patrick Vaughan, a plumber, thirty years old, was almost suffocated by illuminating gas in Flatbush at noon today. He was in a hole at the base of a street lamp, repairing the pipe.

SPORTING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that they have been kitting checks between the Mechanics and Traders' and the Hide and Leather Banks.

Mr. Joseph Ullman, law partner of Simon W. Schlessinger for N. J. Schlöss & Co., said today:

"The statement that the firm drew a check on the Mechanics and Traders' Bank is untrue, because they never had an account with that bank."

The truth of the matter is that they borrowed a check for $12,500 from the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, and gave Trautman & Co. in return a check on the Hide and Leather Bank.

Schlöss & Co. supposed that both checks would be paid, as they thought the bank was an equal partner. "There was no check-kitting. The same thing is done very often between firms in the city. They draw a check without drawing directly."

Mr. Ullman said that experts were working on the accounts of the alleged defaulter. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein.

Plumber Vaughan Dragged Out of a Hole Almost Suffocated. Patrick Vaughan, a plumber, thirty years old, was almost suffocated by illuminating gas in Flatbush at noon today. He was in a hole at the base of a street lamp, repairing the pipe.

SPORTING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that they have been kitting checks between the Mechanics and Traders' and the Hide and Leather Banks.

Mr. Joseph Ullman, law partner of Simon W. Schlessinger for N. J. Schlöss & Co., said today:

"The statement that the firm drew a check on the Mechanics and Traders' Bank is untrue, because they never had an account with that bank."

The truth of the matter is that they borrowed a check for $12,500 from the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, and gave Trautman & Co. in return a check on the Hide and Leather Bank.

Schlöss & Co. supposed that both checks would be paid, as they thought the bank was an equal partner. "There was no check-kitting. The same thing is done very often between firms in the city. They draw a check without drawing directly."

Mr. Ullman said that experts were working on the accounts of the alleged defaulter. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein.

Plumber Vaughan Dragged Out of a Hole Almost Suffocated. Patrick Vaughan, a plumber, thirty years old, was almost suffocated by illuminating gas in Flatbush at noon today. He was in a hole at the base of a street lamp, repairing the pipe.

SPORTING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that they have been kitting checks between the Mechanics and Traders' and the Hide and Leather Banks.

Mr. Joseph Ullman, law partner of Simon W. Schlessinger for N. J. Schlöss & Co., said today:

"The statement that the firm drew a check on the Mechanics and Traders' Bank is untrue, because they never had an account with that bank."

The truth of the matter is that they borrowed a check for $12,500 from the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, and gave Trautman & Co. in return a check on the Hide and Leather Bank.

Schlöss & Co. supposed that both checks would be paid, as they thought the bank was an equal partner. "There was no check-kitting. The same thing is done very often between firms in the city. They draw a check without drawing directly."

Mr. Ullman said that experts were working on the accounts of the alleged defaulter. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein. He said that the accounts of the alleged defaulter were mixed up worse than a tangled skein.

Plumber Vaughan Dragged Out of a Hole Almost Suffocated. Patrick Vaughan, a plumber, thirty years old, was almost suffocated by illuminating gas in Flatbush at noon today. He was in a hole at the base of a street lamp, repairing the pipe.

SPORTING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Gossip of the Turf.

Although Charley Mitchell has not gone to regular training, he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city. Every morning before most people are awake Mitchell and Harry Darrin take a long jaunt through Fairmount Park, varying their gait from walking to a dog trot and a sprint. They occupy a mile of the neighborhood of a dozen miles daily. These performances of Mitchell's have so impressed the Philadelphia press that, according to one of them, "Anybody who doubts Mitchell's sincerity or condition is mistaking the man."

Reports from Florida are that the Corbett party will move into its Mayport quarters in a day or two. The place is described as a "dog trot" in which to train. Whoever heard of a pugilist's training quarters that weren't "dog trot"? Still it is a fact that Corbett is a most particular man as to his surroundings when in training, and he is doing some hard work in Philadelphia, according to reports from that city.

The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague. The animals carrying his stores killed by some sort of plague.

William Astor Chanler is about twenty-five years old, a son of the John Winthrop Chanler. He was graduated from Harvard when twenty-one years of age, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro. The expedition started from New York, and was the first civilian man to make a complete circuit of Kilimanjaro.

His law partner, Mr. J. S. Gordon, said that Mr. Chanler received a letter from the explorer about a month ago, and that he had never reached, and that he was going to look for him.

The letter was sent back to a mailing post by a messenger. At the time of receiving the letter, Mr. Chanler said he didn't expect to hear from his brother again for a year.

Schlöss & Co. deny it. Declare that They Have Not Been Kitting Checks. N. J. Schlöss & Co. emphatically denied today the reports that